How the gains were calculated

Digital assets are treated as property for federal tax purposes, so every sale, swap or payment made with crypto during 2025 is a taxable disposal. Cost basis was matched lot by lot using the specific identification method, with first in, first out applied where no lot was designated.

Assets held for one year or less give short-term gains taxed at ordinary income rates, while assets held longer than one year qualify for long-term rates. The holding period of each lot starts the day after it was acquired on the exchange.

Teresa Campbell must report these transactions on Form 8949 and Schedule D (Form 1040) for tax year 2025 and answer yes to the digital asset question on page one of Form 1040, even if the net result is a loss.
